SHRED HAPPY

In the early 90s Kidsgrove dryslope was the centre of my skiing universe.

We made the best of what we had: a bump, a muddy patch to jump. It was all a bit sketchy. We wore tracksuit bottoms and gardening gloves. Our skis were straight and our boots were old.

But, I was obsessed. I was there for every spare minute, rain or shine. It was a million miles away from the fancy chalets and bottomless powder of the Alps, but I loved it.

That's the thing about skiing, once you're hooked there's no turning back!

In these crazy times I remain optimistic. I've been here for long enough to know that there's nothing like the feelings of freedom, excitement and creativity that move through me when I'm skiing. Skiing is good for the soul!

This winter won't be easy, but it's the struggle that will make skiing during these times and in the future even more special! By the time this collection drops I'm sure we'll be back to busy chairlift rides and rammed après bars. Until then, let's embrace the challenges of going skiing and the adventures that will follow.

Jim.

PRODUCT.
PLANET.
PEOPLE.

Our outerwear, hoodies and layering are largely made from Bluesign approved fabrics created from recycled PET bottles. So far, we've saved over 1.5 million bottles from landfill and the ocean. We also make our T-shirts from 100% GOTS Organic cotton.

Yes, it's a good start, but we're only beginning the journey.

It's our duty as human beings to do all we can to help to alter the fast, disposable garment industry that has unfortunately become the norm. The world needs less outerwear in landfill.

To do this, we are fostering new partnerships with forward thinking upcycling and outerwear repair businesses. We continue to ensure that we're maximising the quality of construction to put durability at the core of our product offering, making products that last is crucial in making our business more sustainable.

Guided by organisations like Protect Our Winters and One Tree at a Time, we're reducing Planks' environmental footprint. This is an evolution. We're learning every day.

We do not call ourselves eco-friendly. Instead, we'll do all we can to be more sustainable as a business for ourselves, our customers and our planet.

We can do more. We will do more. Let's do more.

RIDEdry

Durable face fabric made with Repreve recycled polyester yarn is bonded to a technical RIDEdry membrane. Solvent free DWR coating is applied to the outside of our fabrics to aid water beading. Planks' outerwear fabrics are Bluesign approved.

RIDE<sup>DRY</sup> 20

Highly waterproof and breathable, this fabric keeps its wearer dry and comfortable in the wettest and least hospitable environments, during the most vigorous exercise. The inside is finished with a soft mesh backing to create a minimalist, durable 3L fabric.

RIDE<sup>DRY</sup> 15

15,000mm waterproof | 15,000g/m<sup>2</sup> breathable

Be prepared when the weather rolls in. A two-layer fabric that's plenty waterproof and breathable enough to keep the elements at bay, even in severe conditions.

RIDE<sup>DRY</sup> 10

10,000mm waterproof | 10,000g/m<sup>2</sup> breathable

Great all-mountain performance at an affordable price. All the protection that's needed for everyday skiing, be that slushy spring laps or frigid December powder days.

"I'm always stoked to be a big part of the design process. The Yeti Series is close to my heart, it's the collection that I depend on every day of the Winter. We wanted to combine the tech and functionality of top spec 3L gear with a cool, heritage styling that will keep the most dedicated freeride junkies happy. I can honestly say we have nailed it. Look good, ride good... stop reading emails and go riding"

- Jim

The new Yeti Series is freeride gear remixed and remastered. Enhanced with anatomical fits, clever design and bold styling, Planks' flagship outerwear couldn't be further from just "classic three-layer".
